

President Donald J. Trump
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

We write today to express our strong support for resettling refugees in our states and communities and urge you to resettle at least 75,000 refugees in the coming fiscal year. We appreciate your desire to ensure that the voices of states and local communities are heard in this process, which is why we join together in support of this life-saving program.

Every day, 34,000 people will be newly displaced from their home because of violence, persecution, and war. The United Nations reports that over 65 million people are already forcibly displaced worldwide, around 25 million of whom are registered as refugees. Over half of those registered are children. These staggering numbers are truly hard to fathom. At no time in mankind's collective memory have so many been without a place to call home.

Since before our founding, America's shores have been a refuge for those seeking freedom, safety, and a new chance at life. We are a country founded and built by immigrants and refugees. It's what makes our collective states and communities strong. What unites us is our deep respect for hard work, our shared commitment to the country we call home, and our belief that America is a beacon of hope.

As elected leaders in our states and communities, we know the value that refugees bring to our communities. Refugees aren't a burden - they are what makes our country great. Refugees have reinvigorated our economies, brought innovation, and made our communities stronger through their contributions to our public and cultural institutions. They are students, business owners, dedicated employees, customers, elected officials, leaders, and friends.

We have heard from countless of our constituents expressing their support for resettling refugees in our communities. Like us, they know that refugees aren't people to be feared - they are individuals in need.

As the world searches for solutions to the largest refugee crisis in global history, we have a moral and legal obligation to refugees seeking a chance to rebuild their lives and create a better future for their families. We encourage you to visit our communities and hear from our community members, and refugees themselves, what this life-saving program has brought to our country.

Our cities, our states, and our country can help refugees in their greatest time of need. And they have and can help us. We thank you for taking the voices of states and communities into account as you set the amount of refugees our country seeks to help in the coming year.

Sincerely,

Arkansas
